GENEVA JO BLAZEK

Deceased 2010-08-14 Age 74

Gallatin TN

Geneva Jo Blazek was born July 20 1936 and passed away on Saturday August 14th 2010. She was 74. Preceded in death by her parents Harry James Blazek and Doris Helen McGinnis Blazek. Survived by daughter Lisa Erin Brown and brother Harry James Blazek Jr. Not too long ago (3 years or so?) she was diagnosed with Alzheimers. She had not been feeling right and on the 14th my aunt and uncle found her disoriented on her bedroom floor. She had had a heart attack. In the Emergency Room they detected her dangerously low blood pressure and high heart rate. They worked to get both more stable. By the time visiting hours were over and my aunt and uncle headed home the news was that she had improved. Not long after they left the call came that she had passed. The service was Thursday morning. A very small gathering of family at the graveside. My mom was cremated and buried at the foot of her father's plot. She rests with her parents. Just as she had wanted. Geneva was an extremely talented artist. She had work in a couple of galleries and had pieces in a few art shows over the years. The potential was definitely there for her to get some serious notice. Oil paints on canvas were her primary medium and her work was abstract. She also had a great sense of humor and was fast with a quip. Anyone who knew her would second that. It is hard to imagine what it must have been like for her to face the future with Alzheimers. In the letters and notes she wrote one could tell its effects on her. Trying to come terms with the fact that eventually you'd pretty much forget who everyone was where you were...probably even who you are. While in the ER on the 14th she insisted on signing a DNR. No heroic measures.

FRANCES A FLETCHER HALEY
Deceased
2021-01-18 Age 86
Bradyville TN

Frances Fletcher Haley, 86, passed away January 18, 2021 at Signature Healthcare in Cookeville, TN. Frances was born January 3, 1935 in Auburntown, TN., the youngest of four children of the late Culley and Mary Odom Fletcher. In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by her brothers, Robert Byford Fletcher, J.D. Fletcher; sister, Mary Etna Ingalls; children, Vicky West Heady and Kevin West and husband, John Ransom "Hank" Haley. She lost her parents at an early age and went to live with her grandmother Odom and her aunts in Nashville. While there she attended Litton High School. She is survived by her grandchildren, Garrett Heady (Shannon) and Jessica West Carrasco (Manuel), great granddaughter, Ella Heady; special niece, Mary Ann Britnell, cousin, Carolyn Odom Thiel, 3 nephews and 2 more nieces. Frances was a member of the Algood Church of Christ. She loved the outdoors and thought of herself as a tomboy. A farm girl at heart, her neighbors and others who passed by her house on Fisk road will remember seeing her in her old-timey bonnet mowing the grass, chopping brush or hauling branches that she picked up. She was still walking 2 to 4 miles a day at 82 in her hilly neighborhood. She loved God's creations, especially the birds. Until the hawks spotted her birdfeeder, she always had nibbles for her feathered friends. Frances was a crackerjack waitress in her younger days often head hunted by other restaurants. She was also in later years an in-demand Nanny working for several families in the Nashville area. She didn't drive for many years but when she did get "wheels" it was a bright yellow Dodge Dakota pickup. Just her style, bright, independent, and facing life head on. To her loving neighbors and the nurses at Signature Healthcare the family wishes to thank you so much for caring for her as a feisty old lady and then comforting her in her last days. Dolores Jeanine Gwin age 86 of Mt. Juliet Tennessee was born August 27 1935 and died February 1 2022. A life devoted to God to family and to others. Her legacy and influence live on in her children: Mark Marsha and Kevin (Suzanne); in her grandchildren: Austin (Megan) Landry (Josi) Sarah (Matt Allen) Reese (Madison) Canaan and Bode; and in her great grandchildren: Savannah Steele and Ruth. She paid for her college education with scholarships from participating in (and winning) beauty pageants and from parttime jobs. Her talent in the Miss Tennessee competition was an impersonation of Minnie Pearl. It was so convincing that Sarah Cannon (Minnie Pearl) brought her to the Grand Ole Opry stage to fool the in-person and radio audience. It worked. Dolores was a wife and mother. For more than 20 years she was also the office manager for Markwest Inc. a Minneapolis MN-based manufacturer's rep agency serving the gift industry. She was so involved in every facet of the business that upon her retirement the owners hired a consultant to study how to replace her. Dolores was a believer. Throughout her life she read and taught the Bible – to elementary school children at the Brooklyn Center (Brooklyn Center Minn.) Church of Christ and the College Hills (Lebanon Tenn.) Church of Christ and to adults at the Wilson County (Lebanon Tenn.) Jail. Her poise her attention to detail and her ability to connect with others made people comfortable and difficult circumstances better. And just as Markwest discovered… she is impossible to replace. "God is in the midst of her; she shall not be moved; God will help her when morning dawns." Psalm 46:5 A graveside service will be conducted on Saturday February 5 2022 at 2 p.m. at the Hermitage Funeral Home & Memorial Gardens in Old Hickory TN. Within months she became the executive assistant to the President of WSM. She was a beloved member of the WSM executive group when she met and married her military husband – Bruce – in 1964. Their life was shaped and directed by the Air Force for the next 15 years. They had two sons during that period. Keith was born in Columbus Ohio and James in Okinawa Japan. There was nothing in Ann's life more important than her family. Keith and Jim inherited her intellect work ethic regard for others and her outgoing personality. Their success in life is directly attributable to the positive direction and guidance of their wonderful mother. Prior to her husband's retirement from the Air Force Ann began a career in commercial real estate. During the subsequent 30 years Ann excelled in all facets of commercial brokerage and property development & management. Throughout her career she took every opportunity to help others be successful. If she was a member of an organization she worked hard to contribute to its success. Ann never put anything in her life ahead of her family. Her two boys know in their hearts that they were blessed with a special mother and her grandchildren with a special grandmother. She was a loyal friend and role model to many. Her husband Bruce an Air Force officer when they met will tell all how fortunate he was to have met this beautiful person in Nashville TN in 1964. Their life has been special from the night they were introduced and Bruce will never forget his good fortune. While her family says goodbye to this incredible woman they will never forget the indelible mark she made on their lives and on the lives of many she met. Ann will be cremated. Her ashes will be preserved until the passing of her husband. At which time they will be buried together at Arlington National Cemetery in Washington D.C.

Lura Ann Morgan Cammuse 84 of Madison TN died on September 9 2020 at North Park Village Senior Living. Ann grew up in Madison and raised her family there. She cared for both her elderly parents in her home. When she no longer had that responsibility she enjoyed going with her husband as he traveled in his work. She especially enjoyed several family trips with her son's family to Branson Missouri for the musical entertainment shows. She enjoyed playing with her grandson and teaching him to play cards Scrabble and other games. She was a devoted wife and cared for her husband for many years when his health failed. After his death she became active in Madison Senior Center Red Hatters and Friday night musical programs. Ann loved Christmas and was always ready to drive to see Christmas lights. For the last six years Ann called North Park Village home. She met some wonderful residents and staff there that assisted her with all aspects of daily living. She loved to have her great grandchildren visit and the opportunity to show them off and brighten the other residents' day. Her joy of her grandchildren helped her deal with the death of her only child in 2017. Ann was preceded in death by her parents Ben and Lura (Wright) Morgan; husband Edward T. BARBARA WOOD NOVOVITCH

Deceased
2022-09-01 Age Unknown
Alpine TX 79830

Former fellow Barbara Bright Novovitch (Germany, Sweden, Bulgaria, Ireland, Pakistan, England, 1968 – 1970), a journalist for major news publications who helped open the profession to women, died September 1 of heart failure, her husband Luc Novovitch said. Barbara was a staff writer at The Washington Post, Newsweek and Reuters, with foreign postings in Germany, Hong Kong, London and Paris. She was a founding editor of Woman's World weekly magazine. Fresh from her ICWA fellowship following student protest movements across Europe and Pakistan in the early 1970s, Barbara joined a sexual discrimination class action lawsuit brought against her new employer, Newsweek. Her role is documented in the book Good Girls Revolt, later developed into an Amazon Prime television series. On her fellowship, Barbara reported about student protests that rocked late 1960s establishments, including in Czechoslovakia, where she visited Charles University soon after the 1969 Soviet invasion had put down the Prague Spring.The death of the student Jan Palach from self-immolation—which prompted parallels with the medieval martyr Jan Hus—had shocked and depressed Czechoslovaks, as Barbara described. Still, she saw strength in the students' tactics despite the seemingly iron resolve of the country's occupiers. "The student movement in Czechoslovakia is ideologically more diffuse but popularly more firmly rooted than that of West Germany or of the United States," she wrote. "By going to the factories and explaining to the workers the reasons behind their strikes and protests, the students have won a common basis." ICWA was important to Barbara at a time "when women were not given the support or respect necessary to grow and succeed in the profession," her daughter Elizabeth Bright said. "She loved reporting, and the years she traveled to different places in Europe to get the story were probably her happiest," she added. Barbara "was intrepid and proud of her ability to get all kinds of people to tell their stories. She was able to see issues objectively, which is essential to good journalism." Barbara continued her involvement with the institute and advising fellows after her fellowship. A native Tennessean, she loved both Bluegrass and Country music. She performed frequently, singing and playing various stringed instruments with bands that included other journalists. Barbara married the photojournalist Luc Novovitch in 1989. They moved to the town of Marathon in west Texas, where they launched the Marathon Gazette in 2000. The Dallas Press Club honored the monthly paper as an awards finalist for best community/neighborhood newspaper. After they sold the publication, it became The Big Bend Gazette, current publisher Mimi Smith said. Barbara devoted "tremendous time, skill and inspiration to the region," Smith told the institute, "from training up volunteer naturalists to show off the region's mountain treasures, a tiny digital start-up in furious reaction to bad local journalism, and writing occasional features for a slick seasonal publication dedicated to the natural wonders of the Big Bend."
